AASK initially provided foster care/adoption support to children with special needs and still does, but now also supports all children in the Arizona foster care system. AASK primarily provides services in Maricopa and Pinal Counties. Among the services provided are the following: (1) recruiting and training (both initial training and follow-up training) for foster and adopt placements, through contracts with DCS and Indian tribes; (2) adoption/pregnancy counseling, for pregnant women who know they want to give up the child for adoption; (3) training and matching volunteer mentors for children in group homes; (4) a new program operates a “sibling camp” in Payson, so siblings can go to summer camp together; besides the usual camp activities, siblings celebrate their birthdays together there, regardless of their actual birthdays, because siblings are so often separated on their actual birthdays; (5) “Wendy’s Wonderful Kids” is a program to find adoption placements; AASK works with Dave Thomas Foundation in this program; (6) AASK’s fastest growing program helps kinship placements navigate the court system, behavioral health care and schools, and accompanies them to kinship care meetings as needed; (7) the Home Community Based Services program matches placements with respite and special needs care providers; (8) AASK’s Medically Fragile Foster Care program is for children in foster care who are age 0 to 5 years and have significant medical, physical or developmental needs such as substance exposure, genetic defects, chromosomal disorders, failure to thrive, feeding issues and respiratory complications due to premature birth. AASK’s 30-hour training and the advanced training courses provide the knowledge and skills foster parents need to provide this specialized care; in addition, AASK has a registered nurse on staff who works with the family specialist to provide support, education and resources to the foster families caring for children with special medical needs; and (9) for Spanish-speaking foster children and families in Arizona, AASK has its Todos los Niños program, which serves the more than 38 percent of Latino children in Arizona’s foster care system; this program offers services aimed at placing Latino children with families of the same heritage, and services through Todos Los Niños are offered in both English and Spanish.

Arizona Association for Foster and Adoptive Parents

AAFAP is a non-profit, statewide organization that serves families who adopt children and provide foster and kinship care. Working in partnership with child welfare professionals and the community, AAFAP’s purpose is to support, educate, empower and provide a unified voice for Arizona's foster and adoptive families, with the goal of increasing the well-being and stability of Arizona's most vulnerable children.

Specific services provided in the past include: "Tax Tips for Foster and Adoptive Parents" seminar each January; "By Kids for Kids" Clothing drive and boutique each February; in 2014, "Night of Knights and Princesses" sponsored by the Fountain Hills High School FCCLA brought together 400 children and adults for an evening of Renaissance fun; the Christmas in July event (because children don't only come into foster care over the holidays), provides toys and an afternoon of 'cool' fun for nearly 200 children; "Trauma training" class is held in the spring and fall for 'sold out' classes of more than 150 foster and adoptive parents; AZAFAP partners with Helen's Hope Chest, Jose's Closet, Clothes for Keeps and storage rooms across the state to make clothing and supplies available to families for their children in foster, adoptive and kinship placements; Michele Wright and Goodman's Furniture in Tucson provide a clothing exchange each month for children in group homes and families in Tucson; the annual AZAFAP Family Camp adventure in the Fall, a "Adventureland Family Camp" brings together foster and adoptive families from across the state for a weekend of networking, support, dancing, hiking, fishing and fun; Alpha Kappa Psi Fraternity at Arizona State University sponsors picnics in the spring and fall that bring together more than 1000 adults and children for fun, networking and support; volunteers refurbish more than 750 bicycles and give them away to children in foster care during the holiday season, and an additional 280 children receive toy in the annual AZAFAP holiday toy and bike drive.

In addition, AZAFAP engages in awareness activities and other similar efforts such as the following: AZAFAP board members participate on the DCS Oversight Committee, and continue to provide input and support to DCS and legislators in decisions regarding children in foster care and the loving families who care for them. In 2014, in partnership with the Faith Opportunity Zone, more than 300 parents, children, agency workers and child welfare advocates celebrate foster care awareness month in May, by tying 16,000 blue ribbons (one for every child in foster care), on the trees along Washington Ave. (the ribbons stayed up for the entire month of May).

Arizona Friends of Foster Children Foundation

1645 E. Missouri Avenue, Ste. 220
Phoenix, AZ 85016
602-252-9445
Website: AFFCF.org

Executive Director: Kris Jacober

Program Coordinator: Kyle Tarr
Administrator: Kim Searles

AFFCF is a local 501(c)(3) organization that provides children in foster care in Arizona with awards for social, athletic and educational opportunities that are not funded by the standard Department of Child Safety allowances or in any other way. In brief, AFFCF will provide or pay for:

- Athletic Registration and Equipment (sign-up/registration fees, soccer cleats, etc.)
- Apartment set-up (for youth aging out of foster care; covers things such as pots and pans, dishes, towels, shower curtains, rugs, cleaning supplies, lamps, small appliances, etc.)
- Bicycles
- Camp (up to one week of summer camp or other camp per child per year)
- Citizenship/Immigration (fees for green card or immigration physicals, but not attorney fees)
- Class pictures (once a year per child)
- Clothing (special event clothing only, e.g. prom, 8th grade graduation, Quinceañera, etc.)
- Graduation Expenses (i.e., cap, gown, ring, yearbook, and other related expenses)
- Instrument Rental (in 12-week funding periods; once initial request is approved, renewals can also be processed in 3-month increments)
- Lessons (12-week funding periods for gymnastics, karate, music, swimming, etc.; once initial request is approved, renewals can also be processed in 3-month increments)
- Optical Expenses (may be considered if DES will not fund; contacts can be considered for one-time only, and documentation is required that states a specific, special need for the youth)
- School Field Trips (class trips to Catalina Island, etc.)
- Scooters, Skates and Skateboards
- Theme Park Admissions (only for parks outside Arizona)
- Tutoring Services (12-week funding periods; renewals are considered only if documentation is provided of what steps have been taken to compel the school to provide services for free)

For the most part, AFFCF will consider paying 100% of the cost of these items. AFFCF does have limits on how much it can pay for any one item, but AFFCF will work with foster placements and providers of goods/services in an effort to cover 100% of the costs. AFFCF assistance requires submitting an award application and receiving approval from AFFCF before purchase; AFFCF cannot reimburse for anything paid for prior to receiving approval. Applications must be made for each individual child, so a placement with more than one child should submit a separate application for each child. To apply, visit the AFFCF website at AFFCF.org, click on the “General Awards” tab, and then click on “Award Application” (or contact AFFCF by mail or phone). AFFCF also is the go-to source for information on how to obtain goods and services for children in foster care that DCS does not cover, so even if AFFCF does not provide a particular good or service itself, AFFCF can help locate a provider if one exists.

AFFCF also provides some services to former foster youth who have turned 18, specifically:

- Driving lessons (for liability reasons, foster children cannot drive, but need to learn to drive as they become adults)
- A limited number of college scholarships

In Maricopa County, AFFCF has established its Keys to Success (“K2S”) program, designed to enable youth who are likely to age out of foster care to support themselves once they turn 18. The Keys to Success program includes a four step process: (1) investigating the youth’s personality, abilities, skills, interests and priorities; (2) matching possible careers to the results of the investigation process; (3) researching potential careers to find top three fits; and (4) preparing a plan to pursue the top career choice. AFFCF’s career development specialist works one-on-one with each youth, evaluating their interests and skills, values and personality. Once a youth completes the career exploration process, he/she will work with a volunteer who currently works with one of many companies across the Valley that are committed to hiring youth from foster care. Once a youth secures employment, AFFCF follows up regularly with the employer and the youth.

AFFCF qualifies for the Arizona Qualifying Foster Care Charitable Organization tax credit; donations of up to $400 by individuals or $800 for married couples may be eligible for a dollar-for-dollar reduction in Arizona income tax liability.

K2S Program Partnerships

Information on specific K2S partners is as follows (NOTE: For information on the K2S program in general and K2S program partnerships in particular, contact AFFCF K2S director Diane Daily, at ddaily@affcf.org/919-413-3468):

- AFFCF will identify and fund tutoring, classes and programs that help youth build skills and remove barriers to achieving career goals; AFFCF also funds an interview clothing stipend of $150, and will provide tools or equipment needed for employment and transportation, as needed. The application form is available at the following web address: affcf.org/general-awards/award-application. Contact Kyle Tarr, 602-252-9445/grants@affcf.org.
- Arizona Children's Association (see separate entry for Arizona Children's Association under each County and in the National/Statewide Organizations Providing/Administering Goods/Services [Private Agencies] section of this Directory) facilitates the Independent Living Program contracted through DCS for the state of Arizona. DCS case managers must complete referral forms and submit them to Arizona Children's Association. Contact Megan Conrad, Program Director-Central and Southwest Arizona, 1420 N. Greenfield Road Ste. 100, Gilbert AZ 85234, 602-579-6721/mconrad@arizonaschildren.org.
- Arizona State University (ASU)/Academic Affairs helps connect the K2S program to graduate students who may be interested serving as K2S camp counselors and exploring ways service learning might contribute to the operation and success of the program; ASU is working with the Nina Mason Pulliam Scholars program to reach out to foster youth in that program and connect them to programs/services and engage them as potential camp counselors and/or career coaches. Contact information: Cynthia Lietz, Dean of Student Affairs, 602-496-0404/clietz@asu.edu.
- Arizona State University (ASU)/Maricopa County Community Colleges Bridging Success Program (see the separate Bridging Success entry in National/Statewide Organizations Providing/Administering Goods/Services [Private Agencies] section of this directory). K2S is participating on the advisory council that has been convened through the Bridging Success program to advise in the development of new and enhanced services that will increase the numbers of youth completing Associates Degrees and/or transferring/graduating from four year universities. The program is being designed with the intent for K2S be a primary conduit for youth to be engaged in these services. The complete Education and Training Voucher (ETV) application is at the following web address: fc2sprograms.org/arizona. For questions regarding youth support at ASU, contact Justine R. Cheung, Bridging Success Coordinator/Arizona State University, 602-496-0535 (office)/ 602-758-9433 (cell)/justine.cheung@asu.edu, or (for questions regarding youth applications or ETV funding at ASU) Chelsea Ockrymick, Arizona State Coordinator with Foster Care to Success, 855-220-8200/az@statevoucher.org. AHH's mission statement is "To support foster and indigent families at times of crisis or need by providing to them basic essentials such as bedding, clothes, personal effects, holiday and special occasion toys, school supplies and emergency assistance. We also act as a resource helping to connect families to other community based services including foster care enrichment and support providers." AHH programs include (NOTE: in all cases, supplies are limited):

1. "Birthday Dreams" Personalized birthday gifts for children 1 to 12 are wrapped and decorated by volunteers, and include a toy, a book and sometimes a bicycle. Any foster parent with a Notice to Provider from DCS can fill out an on-line application 2 to 4 weeks before the child's birthday.
2. "Basic Needs" Twin beds, cribs, clothing, diapers, high chairs, books and other items.
3. "Holiday Toy Drive" Used to obtain gifts for holidays, birthdays, graduations, etc. Requests are accepted online only during the month of November. Foster families (as well as families who can demonstrate need) apply online during November. Non-foster families are limited to 3 years of service and other restrictions apply.
4. "Back to School Program" Provides backpacks with school supplies to children in foster care. Foster families with a Notice to Provider from DCS can apply for service by filling out an "in need" application. Applications are accepted from July 1 to August 15.
5. "Dream Kits" Personal care items such as shampoo, body wash, soap, toothbrush and other items for children coming into foster care.

AHH is a qualifying charitable foster care organization and raises funds through the Arizona tax credit for such organizations. AHH also raises funds through a golf tournament; through programs with Amazon and Fry's grocery stores that turn over a percentage of any purchase to AHH; and by posting a "wish list"/buying tab for specific needed items on its website. AHH also has sponsors that include The Arizona Republic/12 News Season for Sharing; Arizona Diamondbacks (who sponsor the golf tournament and award grants from the Arizona Diamondback Foundation); CVS Caremark (provided volunteers and donated materials to build 600 "Dreamkits"); and Northern Trust Company.

AKSS employees act as caseworkers or “navigators” for kinship placements. AKSS operates in all 15 counties, but the AKSS in-person navigation services are in Maricopa, Pima, Pinal and Cochise; elsewhere, AKSS responds to e-mails and phone calls. There is one kinship navigator for Pinal; three in Maricopa, five in Pima, and one in Cochise County. The navigators’ primary service is to help access services and to accompany kinship placements to court to explain the dependency process. Specific AKSS services include: advocacy (on behalf of the children with schools and other service providers); education and training; (dealing with) incarceration; budgeting and financial; employment; legal; child care; food; military related issues; clothing; foster care/adoption; respite; DCS involvement; health; self care; DES Benefits - TANF, AHCCCS, SNAP; housing/shelter; substance abuse; and support groups. The navigators are paid for by Arizona Children’s Association’s KARE program, through a grant (note that Arizona Kinship Support Services is itself known as “KARE” in the Tucson area; according to the AKSS website, “Arizona’s Children Association (AzCA) was recently awarded a federal grant, ‘Family Connection Child Welfare/TANF Collaboration in Kinship Navigation Programs’ funded through the Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families, Children’s Bureau” and “Services in Tucson are partially funded under contract with Pima Counsel on Aging as part of the Older American Act Program”). KARE means “Kinship Adoption Resources and Education” – in Tucson, KARE is a partnership between Casey Family Programs and the Arizona Children’s Association. Between 50% and 70% of AKSS clients are not placements through DCS and just have guardianships; some caregivers/guardians are not relatives of the children and are friends of the family and psychological relatives to the children. Many of their caregivers are acting preemptively, (1) to keep the abuse/neglect from happening and (2) to keep DCS out of their lives. In Maricopa, there has been a problem that families are relying on powers of attorney and they are not following through and obtaining Title 14 guardianships. AKSS contracts with Southern Arizona Legal Aid to assist in obtaining guardianships. There are 425 caregivers in Pinal who AKSS assists; the organization has about 4,000 caregivers that it assists statewide (according to the AKSS website, “In Arizona, there are more than 198,000 households headed by grandparents or other relatives”). Out of the approximately 4,000 families that AKSS assists at any one time, approximately 1,500 are new each year. AKSS is involved in the Central Arizona Kinship Care Coalition. Ms. Treinen has experience in juvenile corrections. AKSS has electronic meetings 1st and 3rd Wednesdays each month through “Go to Meeting.”

AzPaC is a Limited Liability Partnership formed by Catholic Community Services of Southern Arizona, Catholic Social Service of Central and Northern Arizona (now Catholic Charities), and Devereux Arizona. Services are delivered through the Partner Agencies with Contract Administration provided by AzPaC. AzPaC recruits, trains and licenses foster and adoptive placements. In addition, AzPaC provides supervision and support for those placements, provides respite care for children, and activities designed to retain families in the program. Currently AzPaC has nearly 800 licensed foster homes in the state. In addition, AzPaC provides other services to biological parents/caregivers seeking to recover their children from foster care, including in home services (services such as case management, advocacy, counseling, parent training, parent aide, and emergency services to address stressors in the family and assist the family in improving their parenting skills); Arizona Families F.I.R.S.T. (provides family-centered substance abuse and recovery support services to parents or caregivers); Interstate Compact for Placement of Children (ICPC); parent aide services; and family support coordination.

Arizona State University (ASU)

With a grant from the Nina Mason Pulliam Charitable Trust, ASU has established the Bridging Success program aimed at providing support for current, transfer and incoming ASU students. The five-year pilot program uses a combination of federal grants, scholarships and university aid to offer free tuition to Arizona foster youth. To be eligible for the Arizona foster care tuition waiver, the applicant must: (1) be under 21 years old; (2) currently be in foster care and at least 16 years old; or formerly be in foster care when the student was at least 16 years old; or have been adopted from foster care (and adoption finalized) after the student was 16 years old; (3) submit a foster care tuition waiver application; and (4) submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) each year. Furthermore, recipients of the tuition waiver must demonstrate continuous progress toward a degree or certificate and complete at least 30 hours of volunteer service to remain eligible. A complete listing of all eligibility requirements is available through a link on the website. Participants are provided with program mentors, who will: (1) provide one-to-one case management and mentoring for you through monthly meetings; (2) help with academic, financial, and social support needs; and (3) find resources through ASU student services.

Maricopa Community Colleges

Recently, the Bridging Success program has been expanded into the Maricopa County Community Colleges. No information is currently available on the Maricopa County Community Colleges website, but the contact person is Stephanie Garman, 480-731-8093/stephanie.garman@domail.maricopa.edu; anyone interested in the Bridging Success program at the Maricopa County Community Colleges should contact Ms. German. Standards for this program have not yet been finalized, and they may or may not be the same as for the ASU Bridging Success program. The plan is to have the resources available on all campuses, so that students who have aged out of foster care can access those resources at any time, without having to first sign up for a particular program. According to Ms. German, staff members at every campus will be trained with regard to the resources available through the Bridging Success program and will wear badges that will let students who have come out of foster care know that they can approach that particular staff member with questions about accessing Bridging Success resources.

C.U.D.D.L.E. is an all-volunteer organization that provides the following services across the state: (a) C.U.D.D.L.E. Wellness Kits, which includes a handmade quilt, a washcloth bag filled with toiletries and hygiene essentials, a stuffed animal, and a Children's Illustrated Bible; the Wellness Kits are distributed through DCS Service Centers, group homes, shelters, and various crisis centers; (b) a Survival Essentials Program for children including Understanding Ourselves and Others; Seven Habits of a Highly Effective Teen; What's in a Price Tag; Closets, Cupboards, and Cars; Budgets, Banks, and Contracts; and How to Plan For Your Future and Make It Happen. The Wellness Kits are distributed through DCS and First Responders, so that the kits can be provided to children at the time of removal. C.U.D.D.L.E. also has a program that is limited to the Page area and that is open to all children 13-17 interested in working in the medical profession called "Scrub'bees"; this program familiarizes kids with the various aspects of working in the medical profession.

FCAA chapters around the country plan alumni reunions – “family” barbeques or holiday events – to claim family traditions as their own. Anyone who would like to sponsor or attend or support a family reunion like this should contact FCAA. FCAA offers a book called Flux that covers topics including finding and developing an identity; creating and strengthening a support system; handling biological family relationships; developing intimacy with others; and navigating parenting issues. FCAA offers related Flux training; anyone interested should e-mail: flux@fostercarealumni.org. FCAA organizes “foster walks” around the country to draw attention to the issues facing current and former foster youth and to raise funds for FCAA. FCAA’s National Foster Care Youth and Alumni Policy Council provides relevant and timely information on policies and practices that affect children and families throughout the country, including commenting on legislation and policies that impact youth in foster care; proposing recommendations to improve the lives of youth; and monitoring and measuring the effectiveness of programs and policies. Some of the issues that have been addressed by FCAA’s National Foster Care Youth and Alumni Policy Council include aging out; higher education; mental health; normalcy; and vulnerability. Anyone interested in FCAA’s National Foster Care Youth and Alumni Policy Council should visit its website, nationalpolicycouncil.org. FCAA also provides foster care alumni speakers from its national network of alumni experts across the country; FCAA’s Foster Sharing training helps participant to identify opportunities in a safe, effective, and strategic way; understand how to maximize their credibility; and practice developing and delivering their personal story. The “resources” tab on FCAA’s website provides access to studies and other documentation that support FCAA’s positions.

FC2S runs a program called “Aim Higher” that is designed to give foster youth concrete information to help them understand the realities of receiving a post-secondary education, getting a job and becoming successful young professionals, dealing with such issues as how to get to work without a car, what a “soft skill” is, and so on. Annually, a group of FC2S college students and graduates join the Aim Higher Fellows Program. The yearlong program kicks off in June with an intensive skill-building program in Washington, D.C., engaging professionals to teach Fellows how to develop communication skills to understand and publicly speak to the foster care community; leverage social media to reach a national audience; and build soft skills for the workplace. FC2S helps these students craft messages and create informational videos that educate foster teens and caregivers about post-secondary readiness and success. With professional help, students develop skits, in-person presentations and shoot video about a range of post-secondary topics, from balancing work, life and academics to understanding financial aid. After the program in D.C. is over, Fellows continue posting the educational videos on social media and sharing their experiences during speaking engagements, illuminating the issues around post-secondary education for foster youth.

FC2S administers Casey Family Programs scholarship funding for students in community colleges, public and private universities, and technical/career programs in all 50 states. FC2S provides the encouragement, mentoring and practical support for these students. FC2S also connects identifies and sponsors who provide scholarships to college-bound youth aging out of foster care; while national statistics reveal that only between 3 and 10 percent of foster youth graduate from college, 61 percent of FC2S Scholars graduate within five years – a rate higher than the national average for all students. Applicants must: (a) have been in public or private foster care for the 12 consecutive months leading up to and including their 18th birthday; OR have been adopted or placed into legal guardianship from foster care after their 16th birthday; OR they must have been orphaned for at least one year at the time of their 18th birthday; (b) have been accepted into or expect to be accepted into an accredited, Pell-eligible college or other post-secondary school; (c) be under the age of 25 on March 31 of the year in which they apply if they have not previously received scholarship funding from FC2S; and (d) have been in foster care or orphaned while living in the United States (U.S. citizenship is not required).

FC2S runs a coaching program called the “Academic Success Program.” The Academic Success Program partners the dedication of trained, supported volunteer coaches with the resources of FC2S’s experienced staff to provide encouragement and guidance to students to help them do well academically and personally. Coaches (a) make a one-year commitment to support three to four students with at least weekly communication; (b) generally dedicate from one to three hours a week to the Academic Success Program; and (c) can text, email, phone, Skype, or use postal mail to talk with their students; this is not a face-to-face communication program.

FC2S’s Care Package Program sends its students three care packages per year to help them feel as appreciated and valued as their peers. FC2S relies on businesses and charitable organizations to donate the items that fill the care packages, which include school supplies; snacks; motivational items; personal care items; toys like Frisbees, Hackey Sacks and yo-yos; and gift cards to national chains.

FC2S’s Red Scarf Emergency Fund covers emergency expenses such as emergency medical expenses, transportation costs, rent, and even groceries or clothing when they have no other way to pay, so FC2S students can stay in school.

The FC2S monthly Book Club provides textbook funding to needy college students.

NOTE: FC2S runs several college scholarships programs that are not available in Arizona.

The FosterClub All-Star Internship Program was founded on the belief that youth who have successfully transitioned from foster care to responsible young adulthood are best suited to impact the transition of their younger peers. Every summer, 20-25 young people from the foster care system will be chosen as FosterClub All-Star Interns. They will be provided with intensive leadership and public speaking training, and then sent to teen conferences and foster care-related events across the country. In addition to motivating, educating and empowering foster youth across America, the FosterClub All-Stars will raise awareness about the 400,000 children in foster care today and the 29,000 youth who transition from foster care every year, mostly without the support of a permanent and stable family. The Congressional Foster Youth Shadow Experience brings foster youth and policymakers to the same table. Over the course of three days, Shadow Experience participants attended young leader training focusing on federal foster care policy, strategic sharing and team building exercises. The Congressional Foster Youth Shadow Experience concludes with the foster youth participants shadowing Congressional Members. This allows the youth to share their #FosterYouthVoices (link is external), giving the Representative well-rounded understanding of the experiences of youth in foster care, which will help as they pursue policies that impact all foster youth. The National Foster Care Youth and Alumni Policy Council convenes to provide federal stakeholders with relevant and timely information as policies and procedures are created that will affect children and families throughout the country. The Council represents a collective viewpoint of youth and alumni who have experienced the child welfare system first-hand. The Council consists of 20 members geographically distributed across the country, reflecting a broad range of diversity encompassing, but not limited to, ethnicity, location of residency, religion, gender, and child welfare experiences.

The Fostering Success program is a recent initiative designed to: (a) increase the number of NAU graduates who have aged out of foster care; (b) build a community of scholars among foster alumni at NAU; and (c) provide a transitional pathway to adulthood through the experience of the program. Specific benefits/services include: personal transition coaches; orientation specific to the needs of the student; a community of foster alumni; ongoing receptions exclusive for foster alumni to connect and learn about local and campus resources; Jacks Debit Express funds (amount TBD); eligibility for the Student Support Services participation grant (up to $500/semester); and assistance in securing housing during winter break. Students must fit the following requirements below to be eligible for the program: (a) participate in Student Support Services program; (b) have been in foster care any time since turning 13; (c) live on campus and have a meal plan if a freshman; and (d) attend eight of the 10 monthly receptions. The Arizona Education and Training Voucher (ETV) Program is a federally-funded, state-administered program designed to help youth who were in foster care; students who qualify may be eligible to receive up to $5000 a year for qualified-school related expenses.

HF is an Arizona 501(c)(3) nonprofit Christian organization that provides the following services to children in foster care:

Royal Family Kids Camp – A one-week summer camp experience for children ages 7-11, outside of Payson. A trusted camp cousin has charge of just two campers and each camper also has a “surrogate” grandma and grandpa as well as a large support staff of aunts and uncles; the ratio of staff-to-campers is high to ensure success and safety. During the week there is a birthday bash with cake, games, and presents, to celebrate each child’s birthday. A background check is conducted on every volunteer who also receive intensive training to manage any behavioral or emotional issues. Medical personnel are also available to administer first aid and medication. All campers are afforded complete confidentiality, which means no promotional pictures or unauthorized cameras. However, staff will take pictures as keepsakes for the children and the children receive a camp scrapbook with the pictures at the end of camp. Contacts: Doug Nordman at 480-227-5257 or Douglas.Nordman@med.ge.com/Donnie Garver at 480-834-7554 or rfkc.chandler@gmail.com

Teen Reach Adventure Camp – A summer camp for foster children from 12 to 15 years old, offering fun, character-building activities, and outdoor recreation from horseback riding to low-level challenge courses, outside of Payson. TRAC is a positive, faith-based summer camp. Each three-day camp provides a unique ratio of one counselor to every two children, and each camp is single-gender to promote a greater level of comfort between staff and attendees. Campers explore the wilderness, care for animals, ride on horseback and participate in a low-level challenge course that helps the children recognize the importance of self-respect, teamwork and communication while having fun. A background check is conducted on every volunteer who also receive intensive training to manage any behavioral or emotional issues. Medical personnel are also available. All campers are afforded complete confidentiality, which means no promotional pictures or unauthorized cameras on campus. However, staff will take pictures as keepsakes for the children and the children receive a camp scrapbook with the pictures at the end of camp. Contact: James Adams, Life Skills Coordinator and director of boys' TRAC camp, james@azhope.com/602-258-5860.

The Arizona Princess Program – A formal dinner party that gives teenage foster girls a chance to be treated like royalty with dresses, accessories and professional hair styling and makeup. The ongoing mission of the Arizona Princess Program is to give teenage foster girls an evening that celebrates how truly wonderful they are. The girls are pampered with formal dresses, shoes, jewelry and professional makeup assistance. Following the makeover, the girls are treated with a five-course meal and an evening of dancing. This program takes place at TRAC camp, as part of the TRAC camp.

The Arizona All-Star Program – This program is an opportunity for teenage foster boys to be encouraged by real life All-Stars and learn what it takes to make their own success in life. Throughout the year, the All-Star Program coordinates luncheons, meetings and other events with local celebrities, athletes, musicians, businessmen offering their own life lessons and stories of perseverance. The boys often have a chance to personally interact with the All-Star, e.g. throwing a football around with an Arizona Cardinal football player, playing an instrument with a musician, or skateboarding with a professional. This program takes place at TRAC camp, as part of the TRAC camp.

Life 360 – A life-skills mentoring program for foster children 15 and older. Life 360 is a year round life skills mentoring program for Arizona foster children who are at least 15 years old and builds on the successful relationships established during our summer camp programs (however, there is no requirement that participants have gone to an HF camp). The program focuses on basic skills like money management, household management, planning for college, budgeting, interviewing for jobs, job skills, nutrition and meal planning. This program is primarily for Maricopa County.

Annual Christmas Celebration – A festive gathering for HF children and their loved ones; available to children who attend HF programs, their foster families and HF volunteers. For 2014, the Christmas Celebration was held at Rawhide Western Town and Steakhouse, with Stagecoach Rides, Train Rides, Mechanical Bull Rides, Rock Climbing, Panning for Gold, Shooting Gallery, Burro Rides, Petting Zoo and Western Museum. HF provides a catered dinner for those in attendance, arts and crafts for the children, holiday desserts, and gifts for each child. The gifts include appropriate age-specific toys and new articles of clothing for each child. Since 2005, HF has invited all children who've ever taken part in HF programs, their foster families and their group homes. This celebration has grown exponentially over the years, becoming a reunion event for children and volunteers. This program takes place in Maricopa County.

John S. Brewer Memorial Scholarship Fund – Created to help any foster child through ongoing educational assistance, career training and college scholarships. The John S. Brewer Memorial Scholarship Fund provides assistance for high school tutoring, vocational training, college tuition and housing assistance while in college. The application form is available on the HF website.

Donations to OCJ Kids are eligible for the Arizona Foster Care Charitable Organization Tax Credit. OCJ Kids serves foster children across the state, focusing primarily (but not exclusively) on foster children in group homes. In Maricopa County and in other counties with group homes, OCJ Kids sends volunteer mentors to the home. Specific services offered include the following:

1. Recruiting and training volunteers to visit with foster children in group homes, potentially leading to volunteers becoming a mentor or a life coach for a foster child.
2. Hosting four big events every year: The Career Development Fair (March or April; resume development and interview skills); Cowboy Camp (overnight horse camp in June and July; the children in each group home go camping together); Tools for Success Back to School Party (August; relationship building, backpacks and school supplies); and One Bright Star Christmas Party (for partnering group homes). All four events are centered on group homes, except the Career Development Fair, which is open to all foster children. The purpose of having all the children in each group home go to the Cowboy Camp together is to allow children in special needs group homes, sex-offender group homes, etc. to attend camp despite special needs or restrictions on having contact with others that otherwise would prevent these children from being able to go to a summer camp.
3. Setting up Transition Success Centers (storage rooms at OCJ Kids, affiliated local churches around the state, and/or DCS offices) and stocking them with socks, underwear, and other items for (a) suitcases filled with supplies, for teens transitioning out of foster care; (b) welcome kits for when kids come into a group home, so they have hygiene products they can call their own; and (c) kinship kits for when children are removed from their home and placed in foster care.

Best for Babies program – This program provides both training and support to court and DCS personnel in establishing best practices for dealing with foster children ages 0-3 years. Issues addressed include prenatal exposure to maternal substance abuse and low birth weight, which are associated with an increased likelihood of behavioral problems, chronic health conditions, and developmental delays. The goals of Best for Babies are: (1) to increase shared knowledge of the unique needs of maltreated infants and toddlers; and (2) to increase community collaboration in the child welfare system to improve outcomes. A particular concern is that the unique and immediate needs of infants and toddlers in the child welfare system are often overlooked, since the focus of ongoing services is likely to be the more visible legal and mental health issues of their birth parents. Dates and locations for training sessions and conferences are on the website under the “Training” tab.

Never Shake a Baby Arizona (NSBAZ) program – This program is an evidence-based program that is aimed at providing parents information and skills to prevent Shaken Baby Syndrome. NSBAZ is working to be available throughout the state to all parents who have just given birth. The NSBAZ program is offered by the nurse to new parents just prior to discharge with their newborn. Parents who voluntarily participate are given a tip sheet on how to handle a crying infant; they watch a video on Shaken Baby Syndrome; and they are asked to sign a “commitment form” that states that they were educated on the dangers of shaking babies. They also make a plan to handle their crying child and inform all who take care of their child about their plan and about SBS. During the program’s pilot stage, parents were asked to participate in a follow-up survey. Of those in the sample of parents who were called, 96% remembered the program and nearly 90% said they had shared the information they had learned with other caregivers for their child. NSBAZ, a project of Prevent Child Abuse Arizona, is currently funded by grants from the Child Abuse Prevention License Plate Fund, BHHS Legacy Foundation, the Morris Foundation, Phoenix Sun’s Charities, Virginia G. Piper Charitable Trust, and Arizona Department of Health Services, Bureau of Women’s and Children’s Health.

Founded by a network of 60 churches in 2009, StreetLightUSA is the national leader in providing care and healing to victims of child sex trafficking and sexual trauma. Most girls are placed through the state; there are only a few private placements. Girls are placed from across the country, but most are from Arizona. Services include: (1) an awareness program/ speakers bureau including subject matter experts; monthly training sessions on the issue of child sex trafficking, and monthly open house for placement agencies in Maricopa County, usually at their facilities; interactive social media efforts with thousands of Facebook and Twitter followers, and regular newsletters; (2) prevention efforts that include partnering with universities and subject matter experts to create evidence based programs that become best practices for SLUSA’s residential campus (located in the west valley, in Maricopa County); receiving girls whose histories demonstrate risk factors for potentially being drawn into the sex trades, such as chronic runaways and homeless youth; networking with state agencies and other organizations to prepare a smooth transition for girls to move into independent living; and assistance in advocating state and federal legislation to strengthen the penalties against perpetrators and increase resources for the victims; and (3) direct care services for girls 11-17 who have been rescued from sex trafficking, provided at the residential campus. The residence provides 24 hour residential care for up to 48 girls. The residence, the largest of its kind in the country, is a four-acre facility with six cottages in a homelike, neighborhood setting; residents are not locked in, but the facility is secured against the outside. The residence has arrangements for and transportation to medical, legal, behavioral health and educational services; an on-site staff therapist who meets with girls individually and in groups; educational success and completion programs; programs for development of life skills and career goals; and assistance with legal matters. There is special focus on dealing with PTSD, Stockholm Syndrome, and long-term effects of abuse and exploitation.

Tel.: 855-YEARUP1

Year Up offers a free, one-year program that includes: (1) 6 months professional training in IT, Finance, or Customer Service; (2) 6 month corporate internship with a respected company; (3) up to 24 college credits; (4) weekly educational stipend throughout the program; and (5) guidance and support from a staff advisor and mentor who is an experienced professional. For the first six months of the program, students develop technical and professional skills in the classroom. Students then apply those skills during the second six months on an internship at one of Year Up's corporate partners. Year Up is open to expanding into new markets, dependent on market demand and organizational capacity.

Results include 85% of Year Up graduates are employed or attending college full-time within four months of completing the program; those employed earn an average starting salary of $15 per hour – $30,000 per year for salaried employees. The program has achieved 100% placement of qualified Year Up students into internships; over 90% of corporate partners would recommend the Year Up program to a friend or colleague. Since being founded in 2000, Year Up has served over 10,000 young adults and provided interns for over 250 corporate partners.

The application process is set forth on the website: (1) submit a student interest form (available on the website); (2) attend an open house or group information session; and (3) complete an application (also available on the website). Classes begin in March and September. Applications are considered on a rolling basis until the class is filled.

Applicants must be (1) 18-24 years old; (2) high school graduate or GED recipient; (3) of low to moderate income; (4) A U.S. Citizen, permanent resident, or have an employment authorization card; (5) Available 5 days a week (Monday-Friday) for the full year of the program; (6) and highly motivated to learn new technical and professional skills (the website expressly states that the program “requires strong motivation and a lot of hard work”).

The program's Direct Service strategy delivers a training program that prepares young adults for professional jobs that meet the needs of Year Up's corporate partners and helps place students on a path to continued higher education. Companies see value in Year Up's young adults who consistently meet their growing and changing human capital needs. Our Systems Change strategy is geared towards shifting perceptions of urban young adults from social liabilities to economic assets, shifting employer practices to broaden talent sourcing and hiring, and shifting public policies to support enterprising career pathways. To date, Year Up has focused primarily on offering companies a Standard Training Program through which they can access talented young adults. Custom solutions are created in partnership with client employers to meet a critical business need and solve for the skills gap challenges in the market place. Custom solutions will likely change some elements of current program design, and in all cases will continue to focus on serving young adults. Technical skills classes at Year Up may include: (1) desktop and network support; (2) help desk; (3) hardware repair; (4) operating systems; (5) disk formatting, partitioning and ghosting; (6) peripherals; (7) software installation; (8) viruses and malware; (9) Microsoft Office and Outlook; (10) networking and TCP/IP; (11) investment operations; (12) customer service; and (13) fund accounting. Professional and communication skills classes at Year Up may include: (1) business writing skills; (2) time management; (3) career networking; (4) communicating clearly and effectively; (5) conflict resolution and negotiation; (6) working in teams; (7) presentation skills; (8) workplace norms; (9) introduction to business; (10) personal finance; (11) workplace legal issues; and (12) work/life balance.

Academic Partners include Maricopa Community Colleges and University of Phoenix, and also: Atlanta Metropolitan College; Baltimore City Community College; Bellevue College; Cambridge College; Community College of Rhode Island (CCRI); City College of San Francisco (CCSF); Florida State College at Jacksonville; Foothill College; Harold Washington College; Johnson & Wales University; Kaplan University; Miami Dade College; Northern Virginia Community College; Northern Virginia Community College (NOVA); Peirce College; and SUNY Empire State College

AGA describes itself as "A support network for grandparents who are raising their grandchildren." AGA holds periodic summits. The website (and documents on the website) identify the following current/past sponsors: AARP; Center for Economic Integrity; Children's Action Alliance; Rosemont Copper; Pima Federal Credit Union; CareMore (a provider of MediCare Advantage plans); Encompass Technology Solutions (a provider of IT outsourcing services); Primavera (on-line high school education); Children's Action Alliance; KARE Center; Hughes Federal Credit Union; Dishes & Stories Culinary Social Enterprise; Territorial News; Pima County Juvenile Court Center; Bill Kitt; and Ann Nichols. Per Laura Jasso, AGA lobbies the legislature; they succeeded in getting grandparents a $75/month stipend and most recently sought (but did not obtain) extended TANF benefits. They have a hard time getting more grandparents involved in lobbying and many are resistant to using computers. AGA sends out action alerts through AZ Children's Alliance. They have worked with Leah Landrum Taylor and Senator Bradley in the legislature. They are currently trying to get Tucson to recognize September as "Kinship Care Month"; they want to do the same in Phoenix, in order to bring their issues to the legislature's attention. There are 80,000 kinship placements in the state. AGA works with Primavera Foundation. AGA meets twice a month in Tucson.

CAA does not provide goods or services itself, but does provide a referral system to various resources under the "Need Help?" tab on CAA's website, azchildren.org. CAA does have a website to assist children aging out of foster care, fosteringadvocatesarizona.org (see the separate entry for fosteringadvocatesarizona.org in the National/Statewide Organizations Providing/Administering Goods/Services [Private Agencies] section of this Directory).

Staff: Dana Wolfe Naimark (President and CEO); Meghan Arrigo (Associate Director of Child Welfare Policy; x211); Tammy Feltner (Executive Assistant; x201); Joe Fu (Director of Health Policy; x212); David Higuera (Director, CAA Southern Arizona; 520-329-4930); Amy Kobeta (Vice President; x202); Karen McLaughlin (Director of Budget and Research; x207); Kelley Murphy (Director of Early Childhood Policy; x200); Joshua Oehler (Research Associate; x204); Beth Rosenberg (Director of Child Welfare and Juvenile Justice Policy; x206); Shannon Ulmer (Director of Operations); Sheryl Worthy (Administrative Assistant; x219).

CAA lobbies the government at both federal and state levels (especially the state level) on issues of concern for children in general and especially low-income children; produces briefing sheets and talking point lists for politicians and others. Does research and collects others' research to support its positions. Issues include: subsidized child care; TANF Cash Assistance; education about mental illness; housing assistance; youth treatment funds; DCS budget to handle the backlog of cases; foster care funding; payment rates to doctors, hospitals, and ambulances for Medicaid; funding for district and charter schools; university funding; community college funding.

CAA works with other organizations on various issues:

Fostering Advocates Arizona

The Jim Casey Youth Opportunities (to improve policies by creating opportunities for young people to achieve positive outcomes in permanence, education, employment, housing, health, financial capability, and social capital); Nina Scholars (funded through the Nina Mason Pulliam Charitable Trust, providing educational opportunities for individuals who would not normally receive traditional academic scholarships); FindYouthInfo.gov (the U.S. government Web site that has youth facts, funding information, and tools to assess community assets, generate maps of local and federal resources, search for evidence-based youth programs, and keep up-to-date on the latest, youth-related news); Reference Guide to Arizona Scholarships, Grants and Financial Aid Information.

Budget and Taxes

Childrensbudget.org (a website providing a searchable database of funding for children in the federal budget); State Priorities Partnership (a network of more than 40 independent, nonprofit research and policy organizations coordinated by the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, which specializes in research on state and federal policy decisions); and The Economic Policy Institute (a think tank that seeks to broaden the public debate about strategies to achieve a prosperous and fair economy).

Child Abuse and Neglect

The State Policy Advocacy and Reform Center (SPARC [coordinated by First Focus], a project designed to help state child welfare advocates make an even bigger impact, supported by the Annie E. Casey Foundation and Jim Casey Youth Opportunities Initiative); Casey Family Programs (the nation's largest operating foundation focused entirely on foster care); Prevent Child Abuse America (building awareness, providing education in the effort to prevent the abuse and neglect of children); Child Trends (nonprofit, nonpartisan research center that studies children at all stages of development); Chapin Hall at the University of Chicago (a research and policy center); DCS; Arizona CASA Program; The Arizona Supreme Court (including the Arizona Foster Care Review Board and CASAs); The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Administration for Children and Families (compiles data on welfare and child support, domestic violence, adoption, foster care, family support and family preservation, child abuse and neglect); Child Welfare Information Gateway (connects child welfare and related professionals to comprehensive information and resources; Part of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services); FindYouthInfo.gov (the U.S. government website re: youth programs, including community assets); The North American Council on Adoptable Children; Arizona Citizen Review Panel Program (assesses the DCS system); Arizona Sexual Assault Network .

Early Care and Education

The Arizona Child Care Resource and Referral (a community service re: child care resources; also provides training and technical assistance to child care providers); Birth to Five Helpline; The Birth to Five Helpline 877-705-KIDS (Arizona's only toll-free helpline for parents, caregivers and professionals to call for questions about children 0-5. The Helpline is answered by professional early childhood development specialists. In addition, callers are able to access support as needed from Southwest Human Development's early childhood staff); First Things First (early learning and health programs for children from 0-5); Enriching Children, Enriching the Nation: Public Investment in High-Quality Prekindergarten by Robert G. Lynch of the Economic Policy Institute (shows that investment in early learning pays off for state governments); Zero to Three (the nation's leading resource on the first three years of life); Kids Count Right Start (this online report tracks U.S. birth information across states and the nation's 50 largest cities); The National Association for the Education of Young Children (the nation's largest organization of early childhood educators and others); Pre-K Now (offers information about the importance of Pre-K programs for all children); Foundation for Child Development (a national, private philanthropy).

Grandfamilies

Arizona Grandparent Ambassadors (a support network for grandparents who are raising their grandchildren); Arizona Kinship Support Services (assists caregivers in meeting their family's needs, promoting public/private partnerships to meet those needs).

Health

Kids Health Link (help finding health care in Maricopa or Pinal Counties); Arizona Adolescent Health Coalition (promotes optimal health through emphasis on prevention, risk reduction, and early intervention); AHCCCS (site includes applications which may be downloaded); The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (provide statistics and general children's health information); Comprehensive Health Surveillance System of the Arizona Department of Education (tracks youth risk behavior); Families USA (dedicated to the achievement of high-quality, affordable healthcare for all Americans); First Focus (provides news, reports, trainings, factsheets, and webinars on health care coverage with a special emphasis on low-income children and families); FindYouthInfo.gov (the U.S. government Web site re: youth programs); Phoenix Children's Hospital's Parent Action Committee (people who have a vital interest in the future of Phoenix Children's Hospital).

Juvenile Justice

The Juvenile Justice Services Division of the Arizona Supreme Court, Administrative Office of the Courts; The Arizona Department of Juvenile Corrections; FindYouthInfo.gov (the U.S. government Web site re: youth programs); The Annie E. Casey Foundation (juvenile justice reform agenda so that they lock up fewer youth, rely more on proven, family-focused interventions, and create opportunities for positive youth development); The Campaign for the Fair Sentencing of Youth (coordinates, develops and supports efforts to implement just alternatives with a focus on abolishing life without parole sentences for all youth); Models for Change (a network of government and court officials, legal advocates, etc. working to ensure that kids are held accountable and treated fairly; provides research-based tools and techniques); Coalition for Juvenile Justice (a national resource on delinquency prevention and juvenile justice issues); National Center for Juvenile Justice (independent and original research); National Juvenile Justice Network (helping state advocates attain fair and appropriate treatment for youth in the justice system); National Council of Juvenile and Family Court Judges; The Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (leadership, coordination, and resources to prevent and respond to juvenile delinquency and victimization); Campaign for Youth Justice (dedicated to ending the practice of trying, sentencing and incarcerating youth in the adult criminal justice system); National Mental Health Association's page on juvenile justice; Juvenile Info Network (comprised of state juvenile corrections departments); Fight Crime: Invest in Kids (an organization of more than 2,500 police chiefs, sheriffs, prosecutors, other law enforcement leaders, and violence survivors dedicated to preventing crime and violence).

Children's Action Alliance is part of a national initiative, KIDS COUNT, to collect data and publish statistical reports on the condition of children.

Children's Rights uses the law to hold governments accountable and to defend kids when foster care systems fail. Children's Rights began as a project of the New York Civil Liberties Union and, later, the American Civil Liberties Union, and in 1995 became an independent nonprofit organization. As of August, 2015, litigation affecting Arizona included a class action filed in the U.S. District Court, District of Arizona, Phoenix Division on February 3, 2015 against the Department of Child Safety and the Department of Health Services, seeking an increase in foster placements, better medical care and an increase in therapeutic foster homes, placements with siblings and closer to their original homes, and improvements in investigating abuse allegations. The Arizona Center for Law in the Public Interest is local counsel for Children's rights in this litigation.

This entity is listed on the DCS website as a foster care licensing agency, recruiting, training and licensing foster families in this county. HRT provides foster care and adoption services as well as in-home family support services including family preservation, parent aide and reunification. HRT's home office is located in Phoenix, AZ with foster and adoption programs in the following counties: Apache, Coconino, La Paz, Maricopa, Mohave, Navajo, Yavapai and Yuma. HRT's in-home services are operated in Maricopa only based out Tempe. HRT's foster and adopt programs recruit, train and license foster and adoptive homes and provides a full continuum of foster care including regular, emergency receiving, medically fragile, developmental homes, therapeutic foster care, and adoptions. HRT provides 24 hour support to its foster parents, including providing the HRT licensing worker's cell number. HRT ongoing support includes: 24 hours on-call support personnel, respite, advocacy, and attendance at DCS case staffings and CFT with the foster parents. Children with Tribal affiliation are served in HRT homes in similar ways as other program participants. HRT serves individuals from sovereign tribes throughout Arizona, including the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community, Navajo, Gila River, White Mountain Apache and the Hopi Tribe. HRT'S behavioral health foster care program (HCTC – Home Care to Home Care Clients) is supervised by degreed professionals that have over 30 years of experience in foster care and behavioral health. A slightly higher reimbursement rate is offered to providers serving Tribal Youth, Developmental Disabilities and Therapeutic Care to account for the therapeutic outcome expectations. HRT believes its foster parents to be an integral part in the continuum of care and refers to its program as a Family of Families.

Contact: Ms. Pat Johnson

The contact information is Pat Johnson's cell phone and e-mail: 928-978-5610; patjohnsoninpayson@gmail.com.

This is the only CASA Support Council in Gila County. RCAC helps any children in foster care in northern Gila County (i.e., in the Payson area, but not in the Globe area). They coordinate a radio-thon to raise money each year. They bought loaner car seats for CASAs. They can give winter coats, tutoring, bikes, etc. and they seldom turn a request down. There are a total of three people in the organization: Pat Johnson, her boss at the radio station, and their CPA. The radio station and the three members pay all overhead, so the entity has no overhead costs. Ms. Johnson works at radio station KRIM-FM; contact information there:

NOTE: Friends of CASA (the former CASA support council in Payson) no longer exists and has turned over its assets to Rim Country Arizonans for Children. The Globe-area CASA support council called “Gila Council for Kids” is also apparently now defunct.

Rebekah Diaz (member), Principal, Great Productions PHX, The Action Foundation

This entity is listed on the DCS website as a foster care licensing agency, recruiting, training and licensing foster families in this county. Agape recruits, trains and licenses foster and adoptive families. Agape provides kinship caregivers with important information about the advantages and disadvantages of becoming licensed to care for the children in their homes (advantages include higher monthly reimbursement; advocacy for the family; 24/7 support; respite [144 hours annually]; and additional resources, while disadvantages include Article 58 requirements [State rules for supervision and discipline] apply, and there is additional monitoring of the home).

Agape's Pathways program for birth mothers provides critical assistance in helping women identify a comprehensive adoption parenting plan, then delivers consistent support to help them chart a plan and navigate a successful course for emotional well-being (eight hours of professional counseling is provided to each Pathways participant); educational success (carefully tailored program developed in conjunction with local educators and colleges are designed to help Pathways participants complete high school and obtain an associate's degree or higher); and professional development (Pathways participants are partnered with professionals who help them with resume development and job interviews).

Agape is an Arizona "Safe Haven" agency, which means it is qualified to receive infants from birth parents who feel they are unable to care for them and choose to relinquish them within 72 hours after their birth, in order to place them in adoptive homes. Agape partners with the national "It's My Very Own – Bags of Love" program. It is the agency's goal to distribute a Bag of Love containing toys, toiletries and a hand-made quilt are distributed to every foster child who is placed in an Agape home. Agape has collaborated and received advanced training and grant support from the National Network of Adoption Advocacy Programs, a collaborative partnership dedicated to supporting and enhancing the effectiveness adoption programs and developing programs in diverse cultural communities which utilize the One Church One Child concept. Agape is affiliated with the Arizona State University School of Social Work Field Education Office and provides social work internship opportunities for up and coming professionals.

This entity is listed on the DCS website as a foster care licensing agency, recruiting, training and licensing foster families in this county. ABCS provides foster care/adoption licensing services for Christian families within its ministry, in Maricopa, Pima and Yuma counties, and also around Prescott and Flagstaff. ABCS views foster care as a mission and foster families as missionaries. ABCS is a licensing agency contracted by the state of Arizona to work with foster parents and adoptive placements. ABCS provides both the required initial and ongoing training for placements. ABCS also partners with the state to provide contracted parenting education and supervised visits for families in the Department of Child Safety (DCS) system in Maricopa, Pima and Yuma counties, and also in the Prescott and Flagstaff areas. ABCS provides pregnancy counseling for free. ABCS provides family and individual counseling on a sliding scale; fees range from $40 to $80 per session and are based on family income. ABCS encourages and facilitates the trading and exchange of beds, cribs and other items between its member families. ABCS is a member of the No Child Waiting coalition, which promotes care of foster children in Arizona and orphans overseas.

This entity is listed on the DCS website as a foster care licensing agency, recruiting, training and licensing foster families in this county. CFC provides help to any child or family in need regardless of their color, culture, disability, ethnic group, gender, race, religion or socioeconomic status. CFC provides services in Maricopa, Pima, and Pinal (through the Pima office) counties at this time. Services provided include: (1) licensing foster placements, therapeutic foster placements, Department of Developmental Disabilities foster placements and adoptive placements (they will assist kinship placements, but this is not a focus for the organization); (2) for the families they have licensed, they will host events from time to time such as date nights/respite care, and family nights; (3) CFC's Safe Families for Children program provides a program similar to foster care, but without government involvement; the program provides sanctuary to children when parents are struggling with problems such as drug addiction, domestic abuse, incarceration, or illness, minimizing the risk for abuse or neglect and giving parents the time and tools they need (for now, the program is only in Maricopa, but CFC hopes to expand it); (4) as a part of its adoption program, CFC provides free pregnancy counseling to mothers considering putting the child up for adoption; (5) youth counseling for children in foster care, at no cost to the child; and (6) marital and individual counseling; these services require payment of a fee.

This entity is listed on the DCS website as a foster care licensing agency, recruiting, training and licensing foster families in this county. CPES provides the following foster care related services:

Child Developmental Homes – CPES licenses individuals and families to provide a loving and safe home environment for children with a developmental disability. We offer comprehensive training and on-going support for families interested in providing short or long term care for these children.

Traditional Foster Care – CPES licenses individuals and families to provide regular foster care to children ages 0-17 years. Foster families may choose to provide emergency foster care, respite (short term) or foster care to adoption.

Therapeutic Foster Care: Home Care Training to Home Care Client (HCTC) – HCTC is short-term foster care provided to children between the ages of 3 – 17 years who have behavioral challenges preventing them from being successful in their family environment. Licensed Professional Foster Parents provide care for children in a family home setting and are supported by a CPES clinical team to help the children successfully achieve behavioral goals that will enable them to return to family.

Adoption Certification – CPES certifies families to adopt children who are enrolled in foster care (Child Protective Services) and are currently in need of an adoptive family. CPES Licensing Specialists are knowledgeable in all aspects of the adoption process and work closely with families to ensure a successful adoption.

Medically Fragile Children – CPES provides specialized training to individuals and families interested in caring for medically fragile children. The particular health care needs of these children vary and may include cardiac, respiratory, or neurological conditions. The goal of this service is to provide a stable home environment with an emphasis on managing their healthcare concerns.

FIC provides assistance to families (including kinship caregivers) with children with behavioral, mental, emotional and/or developmental issues in Maricopa County and the Prescott/Prescott Valley area. FIC is family-run (meaning the majority of employees and the board of directors have personal life experience raising children with emotional, physical, and/or behavioral health challenges) and is a member of the Central Arizona Kinship Care Coalition. Telephone (or walk-in) support is available from the Parent Assistance Center (PAC) in English and Spanish Monday through Friday, from 8:30 am to 5:00 pm, except on holidays. PAC is staffed by parents, called Parent Partners, who have raised or are currently raising children with emotional, physical, and behavioral health care needs. Specific examples of how PAC can help include: telephone (or walk-in) support and parent-to-parent support; information about and assistance with accessing services; assistance with the probation, juvenile justice, and Department of Child Safety (DCS), formerly known as Child Protective Services systems; information about valuable resources in the community; help parents/caregivers with stress as well as immediate, specific challenges; parenting tips and information about parenting classes and resources; guidance with special education and schools; assistance with enrollment in public health services (i.e. AHCCCS, RHBA, etc.); help parents understand documents (medical, custody, public health, etc.) and refer them to the designated officials who will help them complete these forms; information about support groups, family education programs, trainings, and other support services provided by FIC. The Parent Partner may also accompany the family to meetings/staffings, juvenile justice court hearings, etc. For information about Parent Partners, contact the Parent Assistance Center (PAC) at 602-288-0155 or pac@familyinvolvementcenter.org, or in Maricopa County contact Kim Foy, Parent Support Services Program Manager, at 602-412-4075 or kim@familyinvolvementcenter.org, and in Northern Arizona contact Trish Riner, NARBHA Manager, at 928-379-5077.

The following programs are offered at FIC on an ongoing basis: Spanish-speaking Parent Support Group; GRACE Support Group (Grandparents, Relatives and Caregivers Empowered); Parent Empowerment Group; Circle of Hope (Support group and professional training for Parent-to-Parent Support Providers); Family Leadership Network; Children and Families Advisory Partnership (CFAP); and Youth Creating Change (for 12- to 17-year-olds interested in positive community change).

The following classes and trainings are offered at FIC as scheduled throughout the year: Active Parenting Now (7-week series); Active Parenting for Teens (7-week series); Cooperative Parenting and Divorce (8-week series); Real Talk (Gender and age specific 8-week series for youth); Salsa, Sabor y Salud (8-week series); Strengthening Families and Communities (13-week series); Mental Health First Aid (For anyone 18 years and older); Youth Mental Health First Aid (For professionals working with youth ages 12-18); Beginner, Intermediate and Advanced Training for Parent-to-Parent Support Roles; Children's Mental Health Awareness Book Club; and Children's Mental Health Awareness activities (Hosted annually January through May).

FIC offers a unique variety of activities and programs for youth ages 8 to 17 years called Youth Development & Support Services (YDSS). These include Real Talk (gender and age specific 8-week series offered throughout the year), HYPE @ The Zoo (a Saturday youth volunteer program at the Zoo), Skill-Builder Workshops (addressing a variety of critical skills for youth), Prosocial Activities (opportunities for youth to build relationships, communication and team building skills), YDSS Dinners (monthly dinners for youth to connect and share ideas about programming), Youth Mentoring (one on one support) and Summer Connections (our summer program for enrolled youth ages 10 to 14 years). Visit the Youth Services page on FIC's website to learn more; e-mail YDSS@familyinvolvementcenter.org.; contact Rhonda Hemming, YDSS Program Manager – Phoenix, Rhonda@familyinvolvementcenter.org/602-689-9957; or contact Mary Manning, YDSS Program Manager - Northern AZ, Marym@familyinvolvementcenter.org/480-320-8701.

FIC offers a wide-range of parent education and training courses for families (including parents/caregivers and youth), community members and professionals. FIC also facilitates trainings designed specifically for parent-to-parent support roles as well as other professional trainings. To date, FIC's Training Institute has provided training in Arizona and in Chicago, California, Maryland, Ohio, Texas, Washington D.C., Florida and New Jersey. Visit the Training Institute page on FIC's website or contact Toni Donnelly, Director of Training and Innovation, at 602-412-4074 or toni@familyinvolvementcenter.org.

HHC provides goods to/for children in foster care or in kinship care (and to biological children of the same families, so that the children in care are not made to feel different in an uncomfortable way), including: clothing; children's books; diapers; toys and games (including batteries and gift certificates for teens); sports equipment; hygiene products; blankets (but not mattresses or beds); and school supplies. Recipients will be expected to provide either a Notice to provider (for children in foster care) or a kinship number for children in kinship care (available by calling [480] 834-9424 x4590). Open Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday from 8 am to 4 pm, closed on Friday and Sunday. HHC is a United Way charity and is a qualifying charitable foster care organization that raises funds through the Arizona tax credit for such organizations; it also raises funds through the Fry's Community Rewards program.

Voices for CASA Children is a nonprofit, volunteer-driven organization which has qualified for the Qualified Foster Care Organization tax credit. Their annual signature fundraising event is a Superhero Walk & Run held in the spring. In everything they do, Voices for CASA Children believes in giving every lost and voiceless child a brighter future. Voices does this by (1) recruiting, training and retaining Court Appointed Special Advocates [CASAs] (their primary focus); (2) creating opportunities that help every child know that they are cared for and safe; i.e. enriching children’s lives by partnering with other organizations such as AFFCF; and (3) by engaging the community to help drive awareness about the plights of Arizona's abused and neglected children; i.e., "getting the word out" and lobbying government for benefits for foster children.

This entity is listed on the DCS website as a foster care licensing agency, recruiting, training and licensing foster families in this county. WVCCC is a foster care and adoption licensing agency (recruiting, training, licensing and supporting foster placements, and also adoptive placements). WVCCC partners with Arizona Kids Consortium to host ongoing foster care orientations. Orientations are offered, in both English and Spanish, on an ongoing basis at a variety of locations across Maricopa County. Parenting for Safety and Permanency Model Approach to Partnerships in Parenting (PS-MAPP) training is offered after orientation to individuals and families interested in continuing through the foster care and adoption licensure process. PS-MAPP is a preparation and selection program for potential foster and adoptive parents. The trainings are supported through a mutual process, which emphasizes open communication, and trust between prospective foster care and adoption families, child welfare workers and WVCCC. WVCCC staff supervises and monitors the foster home once a child has been placed with the licensed individual or family. For newly licensed homes, WVCCC staff will conduct weekly in-home visits for the first four weeks and monthly visits thereafter. WVCCC staff will also provide ongoing support through phone and email.

WVCCC also assists and supports kinship caregivers (family members raising grandchildren or another relative's children); contact Candace Schulte at 623-848-8863 or by email at cschulte@wvccc.org.

According to their website, they fund the following for foster children: equine therapy; sports fees and equipment; computers; tutoring; summer camps; music lessons and instruments; martial arts classes; dance lessons; and art classes. They also cover electronics, regular-use clothes and furniture. For disabled kids, they put books/educational materials on tablets, and this has been very helpful to children. They work closely with the placement to make sure that these materials will be utilized. There are no group homes in Mohave County and all foster placements in the county are 100% full; many kids are placed out-of-county. Many family placements need mattresses and furniture. They pay CASAs $0.14/mile for visits over 100 miles and fund a CASA appreciation dinner once a year. The website includes an application form. They raise funds by taking donations through their website and by holding a golf tournament.

This is the Navajo County CASA Support Council. They spend a total of $20-30,000/year. They do a back-to-school event for all kids each August, for all kids in care at the time, appx. 80-100 each year. In October, they hold a new coat, gloves and hat event (costing about $5,000); their Christmas event includes turkeys for the families and angel-tree gifts for each child in foster care. In June they host a family picnic event, with food, face-painting, fishing, bird-house building, etc. They prepare infant care kits that are stocked at DCS offices (at Show Low/Pinetop and Winslow) that include everything needed for 3-4 days for infants. They provide (fewer) teenager kits and kits for youth aging out as well. The foregoing takes about half their funds; the rest goes for individual grant requests – furniture, glasses/contacts, bikes, etc. They buy things; they do not give out money. They cover Navajo County and sometimes Apache County, which has no CASA support organization of its own. They don't cover children on the Indian reservations, as they have federal aid. They have 12-14 people in their organization. Their big fund-raiser is a golf tournament held each fall. They are a 501(c)(3) and are currently trying to qualify with the state for the foster care credit.

ACS primary provides parent aide services under contract with DCS. ACS also has a parent education program. Besides paid parent aides, ACS also utilizes social service interns, i.e. student volunteers under the supervision of a unit supervisor or case worker; course credit may be earned through various colleges or universities.

In addition to parent aide services, ACS also provides other services directly to foster children and their families, including:

1. The Abused Children's Fund – this is a community donations fund used for special needs of children who are in the care of DCS, primarily for after school programs but also for, e.g., basketball shoes, YMCA registration, the cost of obtaining birth certificates, prom dress and shoes, baseball, football, or basketball camp, birthday gifts, and also necessities like food, formula, diapers, shoes, cribs or beds, school supplies, and new underwear and socks (requests to utilize the Abused Children’s Fund should be made through the child’s DCS case worker).
2. The Bags for Kids Project uses a sew-a-thon to make duffel bags for children in foster care, so foster children are not stigmatized and embarrassed by being forced to use garbage bags as luggage;
3. The Life Book project creates an age-appropriate written story of a foster or soon-to-be adopted child's life, written for the child by Life Book volunteers with the hope that it will help the child make sense of confusing and often upsetting events that led to an out-of-home placement.
4. Every November, ACS runs a toy drive so that foster children can receive holiday gifts (ACS also does gift cards for teenagers).
5. The Parent Peer Support Program charges no fees and allows families to meet in a group environment to share their experiences. The support group is run entirely by the participants and is the only program of its kind in Pima County and perhaps the only one of its kind in Arizona. ACS has approximately 700 volunteers and estimates that it reaches more than 80% of the children in foster care in Pima County.

Besides its DCS contracts, ACS raises funds through grants, fund-raising events, the Arizona Qualified Foster Care Organization tax credit, and the “Aviva Divas,” who sell handmade items at craft shows.

This entity is listed on the DCS website as a foster care licensing agency, recruiting, training and licensing foster families in this county. Child abuse prevention services: Free, interactive parenting training for parents, caretakers and professionals, in both English and Spanish. Classes are offered individually or in series format. For more information, or to register, call 520-624-5600, x309. Nurses work with vulnerable first-time mothers to have a healthy pregnancy and delivery and to become a better parent; nurses continue to provide care and counsel to new moms until the baby is 2 years old. Casa de los Niños and the Easter Seals Blake Foundation are the only local providers authorized to offer the Nurse-Family Partnership program in Pima County. A more detailed list of services (and the ability to refer someone to this program) is available on the website. The Parent Info-Line is there to help parents connect to other families in the community, strengthen their own parenting abilities, and find answers to difficult parenting questions; call 520-624-9290. The Tucson Safe Baby program gives an alternative to simply abandoning a child; Safe Baby locations are places where a woman who delivers an unwanted baby may relinquish the child, no questions asked. This must be done in the first 72 hours of the infant's life. The baby also must be handed to a staff member at the location rather than leaving it unattended. Given those two conditions, however, the matter will be kept confidential and the child will be sent to an appropriate hospital or shelter. More detailed information is available on the website.

Child abuse intervention services include the following: A children's shelter; children who are at risk or have experienced abuse or neglect receive secure shelter, medical care, and critical assistance. Casa de los Niños is licensed to accommodate 48 children, with a focus on children younger than 12 years. A specialty is the stabilization of youngsters with medical problems; Casa de los Niños offers around-the-clock medical care. Most children are placed in the shelter by government agencies and local hospitals. In other instances, youngsters are at Casa de los Niños because they are medically vulnerable and their parents lack the resources to provide adequate care. Often-times staff will help teach parents how to deal with the healthcare challenges faced by the child. Casa de los Niños also offers a voluntary placement program for families who need time to address their own challenges; the caregiver may need to be hospitalized for a procedure, for example. Casa de los Niños will give the child a safe and caring home until the parent is able to resume a normal life. Casa de los Niños recruits and trains individuals and families who wish to provide excellent temporary care for abused and/or neglected children and helps families through the licensing process. Casa de los Niños provides supervised visits required by DCS for family reunification, and parents are helped to acquire the knowledge and skills needed to safely reunify their families. Casa de los Niños also provides in-home services in the form of intensive counseling and parent education to at-risk parents to maintain family stability. Casa de los Niños also has a parent aide program that offers a variety of services for parents and/or caregivers involved with DCS.

Child abuse treatment services include the following: Comprehensive assessment and therapeutic interventions are provided to very young children (birth to 5 years) exposed to violence, abuse, neglect or other traumatic experiences. Behavioral health treatment including assessments, counseling, psychiatric care, medication, and support and rehabilitation services are provided to eligible children and young adults under the age of 22 years. Casa de los Niños provides in-home, after hour and weekend services to meet the needs and schedules of the children. More detailed information is available on the website.

They have qualified for the Qualified Foster Care Organization tax credit. This CASA council provides goods and services only for kids who have CASAs. Among the things they do for CASAs are the following: assist in the recruitment of CASA volunteers; fund ongoing training and professional development of CASAs; sponsors annual CASA recognition luncheon the third Thursday each April; and reimburse CASA volunteers for the expenses they incur in serving children in the program. Among the things they do for foster children are the following: college scholarships; backpacks; tutoring; clothing and shoes; beds and mattresses; summer camp; refurbished computers; musical instruments; cultural experiences; and holiday parties (they hold a Christmas party for the kids, with gift cards that the CASA takes the child to buy whatever the child wants; they do the same for birthdays). They work with other 501(c)(3) organizations to obtain goods and services. They work with a women's group in the local symphony to obtain music lessons. They have access for free prom dresses. The Assistance League "Operation School Bell" provides regular clothing for children in Title 9 schools. They get museum and event discounts. They provide $25/month per CASA/child for CASA/child outings. The CASA program is growing rapidly, as the Court is advertising for more CASAs. They do a joint newsletter with the Court's CASA organization. They respond to many emergency removals, so there is a need for cribs and clothes.

Matt Merrill, Community Transformation Coordinator

This entity is listed on the DCS website as a foster care licensing agency, recruiting, training and licensing foster families in this county. GAP Ministries is a non-denominational Christian organization that helps those in need regardless of religious beliefs. Services provided to foster children include: SPLASH (“Spirit Powered Love Aggressively Shaping Hearts”) houses (DCS contracted group homes for 130 children daily in 14 residential homes); Backpack-2-School (free backpacks filled with school supplies to Title 1 schools in Tucson provided at free Backpack to School Carnivals; Holiday of Hope (Christmas gifts and the Festival of Trees annual event). GAP is approved to recruit, train and license foster placements (as of 5/13/2015).

For teenagers in the SPLASH houses, GAP Ministries runs a program called MERGE (“Maturity Education Responsibility Growth Excellence”). MERGE is licensed by the Arizona Department of Economic Security/Arizona Children Youth and Family, and is available to children at least 16 years of age. The program is designed to assist young people as they begin to transition out of the care of DCS by teaching budgeting; time management; how to handle more freedom; developing confidence to live on their own; learning how to ask for help when needed; assuming more responsibility for daily activities; and learning to respect their space, and the space of others. As they progress through the three different levels in the MERGE program, the young men and women are expected to demonstrate positive school performance, establish employment, complete assigned chores, demonstrate the ability to keep a clean room, show financial responsibility, have good hygiene, show the ability to follow through and have a positive attitude. GAP Ministries’ goal is to purchase an apartment like complex to expand on this vision to help not only the children in care at GAP but homeless teens in Tucson.

STEP is a program providing transitional housing for at-risk foster teens/young adults. It is a multi-year program for 18-25 year olds who already have strong independent living skills, but need that a last boost into adulthood. The STEP program is designed to support young adults for as long as their transition requires. The STEP Program Manager maintains contact with the youth and offers emotional support, as well as problem solving and supervision. STEP is intended as a natural progression from the MERGE program. Once the program is well established with foster youth, the intent is to expand STEP to include other disadvantaged young people who may or may not be in the foster care system, including specifically homeless teens/young adults in Pima County. STEP is a sustainable business model; a portion of the apartments are reduced rent to participants, while the remainder of the apartments are income-producing, helping cover the costs of the program.

Root 52 consists of a Community Training Kitchen, Diner and Mobile Kitchen/Food Truck. The Kitchen reclaims highly perishable donated food to make meals for foster care group homes, children in low-income schools, and community outreaches. The Kitchen serves as a training kitchen for individuals in vulnerable populations, including young adults aging out of foster care or beginning a career search, and the unemployed or underemployed can participate in a 12 week culinary arts certification program. GAP's mobile kitchen/food truck allows GAP to take food into needy neighborhoods. Groups may use GAP's Diner and high-tech conference room, including catering, for a low cost. The Food Truck may also be available for catered events when not in use serving community needs.

GAP Ministries One Life Internship Program offers three tracks to choose from: (1) Ministry School Course Track Training to become a minister); (2) Education Course Track (specialized training in social services); (3) Vocational Course Track (certificates of proficiency in: Culinary; Auto Mechanics; Social Services System; Janitorial and House Keeping; Warehouse; General Maintenance; students earn money for each certificate of completion earned).

GAP keeps a small store stocked with clothing that is both purchased and donated to help meet the needs of the children in its care. GAP also makes available to those in need small household appliances, bedding, cleaning supplies, paper goods, and other items to set up and maintain a household. Some items are donated and some are purchased at a discounted price from partnering retailers.

Holiday of Hope – Each year at Christmas, GAP asks churches or individuals to “adopt” one of the 14 SPLASH Houses to provide Christmas presents, with the idea that each child receive at least three or four gifts from their “wish list”. GAP Ministries also accept donations for individual kids. In the past, there has been an overflow of gifts, giving GAP Ministries the ability to give gifts to nearly 300 children in the community who are in need. The Festival of Trees is an annual fundraiser benefiting Holiday of Hope; custom Christmas trees are beautifully decorated by local businesses or groups and sold to the public to raise funds.

Additional services not directed to foster children: BOOST (Building Overflow out of Serving Together) provides food to partnering agencies who then gave to the community in need. GAP also provided its partners with over $100,000 worth of household items and products. GAP has a food pantry to meet the needs of the children in our SPLASH Houses, and when there is an overflow, that food is used in the BOOST program.

This entity is listed on the DCS website as a foster care licensing agency, recruiting, training and licensing foster families in this county. ICHD recruits, trains, licenses and supports foster families and therapeutic foster families. ICHD also recruits and trains Native American families to provide specialized foster care for Native American children. Specifically, ICHD recruits and trains Tohono O’odham families to foster Tohono O’odham children and Pascua Yaqui foster families to encourage and nurture Pascua Yaqui children.

Support includes initial and on-going training in the behavioral model; licensing application administration; 24 hours a day/7 days a week coordinator support; respite care as needed (including a Children’s Unplanned Respite Program [ChURP] in collaboration with Community Partnership of Southern Arizona, 520-721-1887 x5232, churpinfo@ichd.net); available monthly refresher training; special services for children enrolled with the Department of Developmental Disabilities (520-721-1887 x4600); and networking with other provider families.

ICHHD also operates group residences for youth in Tucson as well as foster, specialized foster and therapeutic foster care homes throughout Pima County. The residential program has been developed to meet the needs of children and adolescents that previously have been unsuccessful in other home-based settings. Youth are referred by the Arizona Department of Economic Security and tribal child welfare agencies. Individual Treatment Plans are determined for each adolescent through a comprehensive assessment and information from his/her Child and Family Team members. They are updated frequently in order to meet the youth's Child and Family Team discharge goals. Increased individual participation in the community is an important component of each child's treatment program. Each of Intermountain's group residences for children has 24 hour therapeutic supervision for the residents. The facilities are comprised of:

1. An Intensive Behavioral Health Facility (formerly known as a Level II Group Residence), Sunrise Ranch, licensed by the Arizona Department of Health Services/Division of Public Health Licensing, under a Community Partnership of Southern Arizona (CPSA) specialized contract where the program targets Residential Treatment Center (RTC) diversion and offers: (a) a master's level social worker who is available for individuals, family and group services; (b) individual behavior coaches to provide teaching opportunities for clients to work on their unique service goals; and (c) short term (90-120 days) programming to prepare youth for transition to their permanent placement and to prevent them from being placed out of the community in RTCs.
2. A Group Residence, Babad Ki/Drake House, licensed by the Arizona Department of Economic Security, where the program focuses on Native American children with complex needs that require behavioral interventions.
3. A Multi-Unit Dwelling, the Zia Apartments, which is home to a transitional living program for adolescents that: (a) focuses on the acquisition of life skills in a therapeutic environment; (b) is staffed 24 hours a day by behavior coaches trained in therapeutic interventions; (c) develops treatment plans based on each individual's unique needs and personal strengths; and (d) supervises 16-18 year olds in the attainment of their educational and vocational goals through practice in their own apartments and in the community. The Transitional Living Program is licensed by the Arizona Department of Economic Security which also defines the qualifications and training for direct care staff in that residence. Behavioral health services are delivered by qualified Intermountain staff on an out-patient basis to the youth living in this multi-unit facility.

This entity is listed on the DCS website as a foster care licensing agency, recruiting, training and licensing foster families in this county. LPFS merged with La Frontera Center in 2012 and is a nonprofit 501(c)(3) social service agency. LPFS recruits, trains, and supports foster parents. The support provided includes monthly monitoring for foster families; attending meetings and court hearings with the families; advocating for services for the children; participating in GoodThread (a clothing exchange for foster kids); fundraising to provide holiday and summer activities for foster children; and providing a Resource Parent Assistance Program that provides counseling and legal services to LPFS' foster families. LPFS also runs group homes for children in foster care in Pima County, and licenses and monitors other foster homes. LPFS has an HCTC program ("Home Care Training for the Home Care Client"; therapeutic foster care that provides behavioral health services to the child) providing residential treatment care to youth in a family setting.

With regard to group homes, services provided include: case management services; individual, group and family counseling; behavior management program; educational monitoring; family visitation; discharge planning; crisis intervention; recreational activities; medication monitoring; skill building in preparation for independence; coordination of all routine and emergency medical needs; nutritional needs; mental health assessment; individual treatment planning; and referrals and community linkages.

This entity is listed on the DCS website as a foster care licensing agency, recruiting, training and licensing foster families in this county. VQ is an employee-owned comprehensive national youth services organization rooted in American Indian culture (however, the program is open to children of all ethnic backgrounds and is not limited to or focused on children from Native American backgrounds). VQ offers three placement types for dependent youth and a school-based program. VQ focuses on wilderness adventures as a therapeutic alternative in which youth participate in activities that are physically or mentally challenging and emphasize teamwork and trust. VQ has called these activities “Extraordinary Experiences” and has used them as rites of passage for youth and to build teamwork and camaraderie. Experiences offered have included Wagon Train, the Buffalo Soldiers drill team, HikingQuest, BikingQuest, and Disney MarathonQuest. VQ has varied the types and length of Extraordinary Experiences offered to accommodate the needs and availability of youth in different community-based and residential programs.

VQ Community programs offer gender specific programming to adolescents between the ages of twelve and seventeen years. There are currently two houses located on a ranch in Tucson’s foothills which serves 20 males, one house in Marana serving ten boys ages 12-17 years, as well as one house located in central Tucson which serves 10 females. The youth attend public school and an emphasis is placed on positive community involvement. The primary objective of the program is family reunification or successful transition into foster care, semi-independent living, or independent living. VQ Community teaches the foundation of essential life skills for youth to grow into successful and productive adults. VQ Community focuses on encouraging youth to create positive routines and healthy habits in all aspects of their lives.

VQ Semi-Independent programs offer gender specific services to adolescents between the ages of sixteen and eighteen years. There are currently two female and three male homes located in single family houses throughout central Tucson. Each house is made up of only four to five youth which allows for more support and individualized attention. VQ Semi-Independent programs are designed for older youth who are ready for a gradual transition from the foster care system to independent living.

VQ Sibling programs are designed for children entering care. VQ Sibling focuses on the continuity of sibling relationships which can provide natural support to each other as well as a sense of stability and belonging. The VQ Sibling programs are co-ed homes serving sibling groups between the ages of five and seventeen. The program objective is successful family reunification or successful transition to kinship or a foster family.

VQ's school-based program provides Aggression Replacement Training (ART) in five schools in the Marana School District. Facilitators work closely with school counselors and teachers to provide progress notes for each session a student attends. Families are invited to a community meeting at the onset of the program for an overview of ART to help reinforce the skills at home. At the end of the year, families and students come together to celebrate their successes.

This entity is listed on the DCS website as a foster care licensing agency, recruiting, training and licensing foster families in this county. CFC provides help to any child or family in need regardless of their color, culture, disability, ethnic group, gender, race, religion or socioeconomic status. CFC provides services in Maricopa, Pima, and Pinal (through the Pima office) counties at this time. Services provided include: (1) licensing foster placements, therapeutic foster placements, Department of Developmental Disabilities foster placements and adoptive placements (they will assist kinship placements, but this is not a focus for the organization); (2) for the families they have licensed, they will host events from time to time such as date nights/respite care, and family nights; (3) CFC's Safe Families for Children program provides a program similar to foster care, but without government involvement; the program provides sanctuary to children when parents are struggling with problems such as drug addiction, domestic abuse, incarceration, or illness, minimizing the risk for abuse or neglect and giving parents the time and tools they need (for now, the program is only in Maricopa, but CFC hopes to expand it); (4) as a part of its adoption program, CFC provides free pregnancy counseling to mothers considering putting the child up for adoption; (5) youth counseling for children in foster care, at no cost to the child; and (6) marital and individual counseling; these services require payment of a fee.

Pam Burke, the Pinal Superior Court's CASA coordinator, is an advisor to the PCCI board.
Sarah Curiel, DCS Supervisor, is an advisor to the PCCI board.

PCCI provides prom clothing and extras, tutoring, parties at the local swim park, backpacks and school supplies, a Christmas party for the foster kids only. The tutoring is done in conjunction with Sylvan Learning Center, with whom PCCI has a partnership. PCCI has a partnership with Central Arizona College to provide mentoring and funding opportunities for foster students in the Independent Living program. PCCI sponsors a "Project Prom," so foster children can go to their proms. The Christmas party is sponsored by the Florence-Coolidge Elks Lodge #2350, with further support from local RV resorts, the Pinal County Sheriff's Department, and local merchants. The Aquatics Park Event is sponsored by the Casa Grande Optimist Club. PCCI meets once a month, the 3rd Wednesday each month at 6 pm; the CASA coordinator and a DCS representative usually attend. PCCI funds itself with a fund-raiser once a year (big dinner and silent auction), in October (tickets $100, $65 tax benefit). PCCI regularly meets at Bedillon's Restaurant in Casa Grande, 800 N. Park Avenue, Casa Grande, 520-836-2045, unless the restaurant's private room is unavailable, in which case they meet elsewhere.

Verde Valley CASA Children's Foundation/CASA Children's Center, Inc. is the Verde Valley-area Yavapai County CASA support council (there is a separate CASA support council for the Prescott area of Yavapai County; see the entry for Yavapai CASA for Kids Foundation). Mike Wade, the Court's CASA coordinator, is a member. They provide bedding, as well as gift cards and mattresses. They report there is only one group home in Yavapai County and that is in Prescott, so the local DCS office struggles to find placements for teenagers. They report there is a serious problem with drugs in the area.

Yavapai CASA for Kids Foundation (“C4K”) is the Prescott-area Yavapai County CASA support council (there is a separate CASA support council for the Verde Valley area of Yavapai County; see the entry for Verde Valley CASA Children's Foundation/CASA Children's Center, Inc.). C4K is a Qualified Foster Care Organization. They provide grants of goods and services, through their application form available online at their website. Their form specifically asks if the applicant has first applied to AFFCF. Anyone involved in the life of a foster child can apply. C4K coordinates holiday “gift trees” to obtain holiday gifts for foster children at a number of retailers in their area (the specific stores are listed on C4K’s website). Yavapai CASA for Kids operates a mailbox for confidential letter and gift exchanges between adoptive and birth families; this service is only available when approved by the Court and when both the birth and the adoptive families agree to participate. The mailbox ensures that the birth family can receive news about their children who have been adopted in a way that respects the confidentiality of all parties. C4K runs a visitation center for foster children visiting with their biological parents. C4K provides “celebration cards”; these are gift cards from local stores that are given to children in foster care when they experience a milestone, such as a birthday, improving grades in school, getting along better in the foster home, not wetting the bed for a week, or sleeping through the night in their own bed, in order to provide much-needed positive reinforcement. C4K supplies clothing gift cards for each foster child in Yavapai County; the amounts for 2014 were $45 for children ages 0-5 years, $55 for children ages 6-10 years, and $65 for children 11 years and older. Last year, they spent a total of $18,000 on clothing gift cards for more than 400 children. C4K also provides each DCS office in its target area with gift cards (10 cards at $50.00 each replaced as needed) under the title “emergency clothing cards” to be available for case managers/foster placements to use when a child comes into care with only with the clothes on their backs. These cards are available at the DCS office without the need to put a specific grant request into C4K and distribution of the cards is tracked so that C4K knows how they were used. They partner with the following organizations to obtain clothing for foster children:

- Child Haven, Seventh Day Adventist Church, 2980 Willow Creek Road, 928-772-3435. Distributes free clothing mostly for younger children, but they do have some teen clothes. Open Thursdays 9:00 a.m. to Noon; no need to call in advance.
- First Baptist Church, 114 Union Street, Prescott, 928-771-7592. Open Mondays and Thursdays, 1:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. May take whatever clothing is needed for children of all ages; no need to call in advance.
- Needful Things, 8400 E. Spouse, Prescott Valley. Associated with the Yavapai Food Bank, they have a limited supply of clothing and will limit distributions to 2-3 outfits per child. Open Tuesday and Wednesday Noon to 4:00 p.m. For emergencies (only!) outside these hours, contact Lynne Passfield, 928-772-5255, or by cell at 928-499-8857.
- Open Door, 5050 W. Gurley (at the corner of Summit), Prescott, 928-445-8382. A division of the Coalition for Compassionate Justice. Open 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. Tuesday through Friday; no need to call in advance.
- Salvation Army, 225 S. Montezuma, Prescott, 928-778-0150. Open Monday through Friday, from 9:00 a.m. through Noon and 1:00 p.m. through 3:00 p.m. A voucher will be issued once every 60 days for two outfits per child, but the voucher is good only the day it is issued, so foster parents should review the clothes available before requesting a voucher. No need to call in advance.
- Teens’ Closet, 717 White Spar Road, 928-379-1667. An outreach of the American Lutheran Church. Call in advance to make an appointment.

They meet regularly throughout the year, but during June, July and August they generally communicate electronically only. Their big fundraiser each March; they have a professional Elvis impersonator who lives in Palm Springs do a performance of “Elvis: The Early Years.” They obtain grants, and host other, smaller fundraisers as the opportunities present themselves. They focus on buying things for kids directly, such as summer camps, tutoring, speech therapy (the local schools provide only 15 minutes per month, in a group setting), prescription sports goggles, equine therapy, and especially regular use clothing. They seldom do electronics. They do ask CASAs to try to go through AFFCF first before applying to the CASA council. One of the churches in town (Desert Grace Community Church of the Nazarene [Pastor Clint], 12134 N. Frontage Road, Yuma, AZ 85367, 928-305-1132) runs “Jessie’s Closet,” which provides clothes for foster children; the CASA council works with this church. The CASA council does do some things for CASAs, though their focus remains on doing things directly for foster children: they help send the CASA of the Year to the annual national CASA conference, they contribute to the training library for CASAs, and they stage CASA recognition events. There are some group homes in Yuma County but not enough, and many teenage Yuma county foster children are sent to group homes in other counties.
